Information on certificate of recovery

Dear Heads of Organisational Units and Instructors,

Thank you for your contribution to our smooth transition back to services and teaching in 2022.

We hereby wish to inform you that the technical requirements of RKI for the coronavirus convalescent certificate have changed.

Please note that the duration of the convalescent status has been shortened (with effect from 15.01.2022). Instead of 6 months as before, persons who have recovered from a coronavirus infection are now only considered to be protected for 90 days.

We would also like to refer you to the free RKI CovPass Check app for checking the evidence required: https://www.digitaler-impfnachweis-app.de/covpasscheck-app/. It provides a reliable and up-to-date assessment of the validity of the respective certificate scanned, and has already proven most useful, for example, in conducting examinations.

Please take this information into account during inspections and, if necessary, in your documentation of the G status of students or examinees and employees.

Yours faithfully,

Professor Dr. Martin Huber
Vice-President for Teaching & Learning

Dr. Nicole Kaiser
Provost
