Unique feathers – tailored solutions for your aircraft

Lufthansa Technik's in-house graphic shop offers you a full range of products and services, that simplify every aircraft operators life. Take a look at our services such as aircraft foiling, exterior technical markings, interior placards and livery and lettering stencils.

Aircraft painting is both time consuming and expensive. This is where foil application comes in. Due to the flexibility of the foils and the speed with which they can be applied, it has developed into an attractive alternative to painting. Lufthansa Technik offers a complete range of services for aviation-certified foiling of almost every type of passenger or freighter aircraft.

Lufthansa Technik's Graphics team handles every step from design development and certification (EASA Part-21J) to production (EASA Part-21G) and application/removal. You can order aircraft foiling services as a modular product or as a complete process from a single source.

Our services

Livery and Lettering

The base coat/ clear paint system consists of stencils based on customer drawings. They are easy to apply, entail no quality risks and can be removed with no glue residues. The letterings and logos include airline names, web addresses, registrations, customized design items and colored livery patterns.

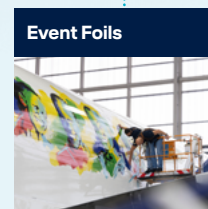

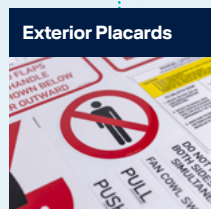

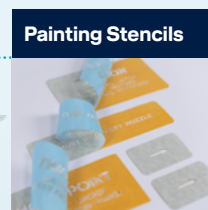

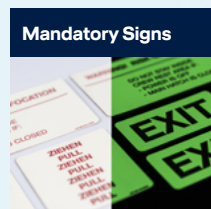

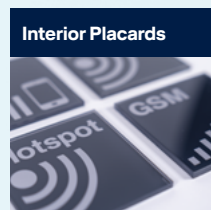

Exterior Placards

We produce exterior placards, markings, and decals as spares or in a kit, based on the customers documentation. All designs are certified and approved with best quality materials. Both mandatory and customized markings are coordinated with the customer's needs.

Interior Placards

Cabin placards are available as individual spares or as complete kits. Our service includes interior placards, markings, and decals. Based on our customer's documentation, we engineer our products with the best quality materials.
